PN MEMBERS' EA INTERMODAL UPDATE NO.8

The following update is for the information of members, who are advised that no agreement has been reached on ANY of the items discussed to date and that members will ultimately determine the final outcome.

UPCOMING TOURS

Negotiations for Pacific National Intermodal Train Crew have now reached a critical point. Some key decisions will now need to be made about where to from here, and the best way of moving the negotiations forward to a successful completion.

Because we are now at this critical stage, representatives from your negotiating team will be visiting each depot over the next three weeks as a part of a tour. At these meetings, the company will present their position and then they will leave. After that, your negotiating representative will discuss the situation of the negotiations; talk about our options; and seek the memberships' feedback.

Depot delegates will be notified via a telephone hook-up to be held next week about which negotiating delegate and official will be attending their meeting.
